Ketchikan Public Library - 2025 Annual Report

In 2025 the Ketchikan Public Library continued to improve services and visibility, enhance collections and adapt to a major change in library materials vendors.

People

Deborah Karlik became part-time Adult & Technical Services Library Assistant I in September, and with her hire the Library is fully staffed.

Milestones: Joao de Mello has been with the Library for 5 years, first as substitute staff, then Page, and now Library Assistant I in the Adult & Technical Services Division. Jason Bauer has been with the Library for 15 years as a Library Page in Adult & Technical Services.

Training: The Children's Services Division staff attended the American Library Association training on children's programming in November, and the Outreach and Adult & Technical Services staff attended the Ketchikan Wellness Coalition's Mental Health First Aid Training. Pat Tully attended the DirLead Leadership Seminar of Alaska public library directors in Anchorage; the topic was state budget processes.

Programs and Services

The Library conducted 519 programs in 2025, up from 379 programs in 2024:

All ages:

- Weekly drop-in Chess Club, with lessons for new players led by Cruin MacGriogair.
- Chess Tournaments for youth and adults
- Three Jigsaw Puzzle Tournaments

- Celebrating Community & You event with information on and activities by 15+ local non-profit organizations
- Board Game Day

Charter School: In the fall, Amie Toepfer worked with three Charter School teachers to provide library programs for their students, since the Charter School library was eliminated over the summer. This led to an increase in the number of students in these classes who returned to the Library with their families. However, due to the time it takes to prepare for class visits and conduct the programs, it is not possible to expand this service to more than a few classes each semester.

Outreach Services:

- Programming and deliveries to residents of the Pioneer Home, Seaview Terrace, New Horizons Long-Term Care, Ketchikan Indian Community, and Rendezvous Senior Day Services
- Four Senior Tech Time programs with KPU Telecommunications staff
- Monthly library information tables at KIC's Elder Cafe
- Delivery of books, DVDs and magazines to homebound patrons and residents of the PATH Temporary Home, Ketchikan Correctional Center, Women in Safe Homes and Regional Youth Center
- Weekly worm feedings in the Children's Community Garden with families during the summer

SAIL helped tend the Sensory Garden

- Maintenance of Book Shares throughout the island
- Home Health and Hospice Services talk with New Horizons
- Presentation by Veteran Services Officer Jan Trojan from Prince of Wales Island to veterans in November
- Ketchikan Police Department's Senior Safety Series with two programs: Senior Drug Take-Back (with Ben Watson from Mobile Integrated Health Unit) and Senior Cyber Crime
- Series of read-aloud programs for Rec Center summer campers
- Food and TP drive for Park Avenue Temporary Home in November
- Fire & Life Safety program in October with the Ketchikan Fire Department
- Featured 12 local readers in "What's on Your Shelf," a monthly column in the Ketchikan Daily News. The column won the Alaska Press Club Suzan Nightingale Award in May 2025
- Planted and maintained the sensory garden boxes (Sweetly Scented, Soft, Swishy and Squirmey)

Increase in Outreach visits: Rebecca Brown's visits to homebound patrons and facilities increased from 240 visits in 2024 to 342 visits in 2025, a 42.5% increase.

Materials

Outreach and Children's Services expanded their popular jigsaw puzzle collections

In 2025 Library patrons checked out physical materials (books, DVDs, CDs, etc.) 103,688 times, up 5% from 2024. The Library conducted its annual inventory of physical collections in February. Of the 60,000 items in the Library's physical collections, 53 items could not be located, half the number missing in 2024.

Online resources: Checkouts of electronic materials (e-books, e-comics and streaming video and audio) increased by 21% in 2025, to 28,462 checkouts.

The Library subscribed to the Hoopla streaming platform offering audio- and ebooks, films, music and TV shows. The Library now has access to Newsbank, an electronic resource with over 4000 news sources, thanks to a group license negotiated by the Alaska Library Network and paid for by a grant from the Atwood Foundation.

Facilities

The Friends of the Library purchased and had installed a water bottle filler in the Library lobby.

The Library participated in the City's 125th anniversary celebration with programs and a display of the signatures on the back of the 2001 Centennial Quilt, which hangs just outside the Craft Room.

The Ketchikan Garden Club decorated the lobby holiday tree with handmade ornaments and seed packets.

The woodshop class at Kayhi created two new garden boxes for the Library porch.

City Building Maintenance refinished the Larry Jackson bench

Other things

- In response to concerns expressed by the City Council, the KPL and School District library staff created and distributed an informational pamphlet for families on Library policies and charges.
- The Friends of the Library held their annual Book Sale at the Plaza the first weekend in October, children's book sales in February and October, and a collectibles sale in December.
- The Library hosted a meeting by the Crossett Family Fund for local nonprofits.
- In the fall, the Library acquired a vehicle that was transferred from the Ketchikan Police Department, for use by Library staff conducting business around the island.
- 1,705 inactive patron accounts were removed from the First City Libraries online system.
- Library staff helped collect and judge entries for the Ketchikan Police Department Christmas Card Contest in December.

End of an era: The Library's major book vendor, Baker & Taylor, ceased operations in the fall of 2025 after 197 years in business. Library selectors and the Library's Operations Manager worked closely with Ingram and Follett, two library book suppliers, to shift orders and adapt to new acquisitions processes. There were some delays in the delivery of new books during the transition, and Library staff are processing most new books with labels, stamps, covers and security devices. In the past, Baker & Taylor provided cataloging records and physical processing. Follett, a children's book vendor, provides physical processing; Ingram provides cataloging records and book covers, but no other physical processing.

Conclusion

In 2026 the Library will be undertaking several projects:

- The Library's 2026 budget includes funding for new security gates and new security cameras, to replace the Library's older, failing systems.
- The Council also approved the City's portion of the funding for a migration to a new online library system for the First City Libraries (FCL) Consortium. If the Ketchikan Gateway Borough School District approves their portion of the funding in their 2026-27 budget, a Request For Proposals will be distributed in July with a target date for the migration of late 2026.
- Repairs will be done to building gutters and new snow stops will be installed on the south side of the Library.

- The First City Rotary Club will install outdoor musical instruments in the Children's Community Garden.

Pat Tully, the Library's Director, will retire in early 2027; in 2026 Library Division Heads will be working with Pat to temporarily redistribute her tasks among them until a new Director is hired.
